The "New Century Cooking Club," is the larest craza in Philadelphia circles of fashion. Eight girls cooked a dinner for as many years; men, the catal cost of which was $1 () and ye; they had all the delicacies the market afforded after it was closed for the day. Wonder if they couldn't be persuaded to come out here and board a few thousand of Hallett's railroad hands? Still we are glad to see the fair sex get-ting back to first principles. We thought that STANDARD GRAIN BAGS art of water color painting and embroidering gumny sacks with cross-oyed poodle dogs, couldn't last more than a century.
